MR. AND MRS. ERIC KNUDSEN'S DINNER.

LIHUE, Kauai, June 26.—All came of the 30 guests asked by Mr. and Mrs. Knudsen to a farewell dinner for Rev. Mr. Milliken, and everyone was delighted to come, for to be asked to the Knudsens' means a delightful time from the beginning to the end. One feels the cordiality, the delightful friendliness, and one responds.

Of private places there is none on Kauai where the charm of nature and art has combined so well as in the garden of Holo. Every little nook and corner is made to yield its most, even the stones, left where nature placed them, give the touch to the scene. The beautiful pergola over the swimming tank, with fernery back of it, takes you to Southern Europe, for the sky is as blue and clear as there—the flowers as plentiful and with the mountains and their ever-changing colors as a background a peace steals into your heart and you feel life is good. Out on the lanai a large table, seating 24, and a smaller one for nine, were beautifully decorated with flowers of the golden shower. It was a dream in yellow on a background of beautiful centerpieces of real lace, but the delicious dinner was a reality.

Mr. Knudsen welcomed the guests in a toast, followed by many others, for the guests were asked to wish Mr. Milliken goodbye and good luck. Mr. Knudsen called first on Judge Hofgaard as president of the board of trustees of the Waimea Foreign church; and the judge voiced the feeling of the whole community that all would miss Mr. Milliken, for he had the rare quality of leaving a district without anyone saying anything against him. Similar were the speeches of Mr. Brandt, Mr. Truscott and Mr. Alexander. Mr. Rankin's toast was humorous. To these speeches Mr. Milliken responded, expressing his high appreciation of the hospitality and friendship he in these 12 years had received.

But the climax of the toasts of the evening was Mr. Knudsen's to Mr. Milliken, and a poem written by the host for the occasion, and at last his presentation of a bag of gold, started by Mrs. Vladimir Knudsen as a remembrance to Mr. Milliken from friends. Mr. Milliken responded, but said words could not express the feeling of friendship he felt. Mrs. Vladimir Knudsen also spoke a few words of her high esteem for Mr. Milliken.

Mr. Baldwin spoke for the host and hostess.

Mr. Knudsen at last drank to a delightful voyage for Mr. and Mrs. Dafoed, who, with their two children, soon are to sail for the coast.

Later in the evening Pedro was indulged in, Mrs. Schultze and Mr. Heinle winning the first prizes.

It was almost with regrets that the guests departed, for no one likes to cut off the hours of happiness.

To Mr. Milliken the Waimea district is indebted in many ways. Some of the finest sermons ever listened to he has given, and what is better, he leaves making his friends feel a loss, which is the greatest tribute to the memory of a man.

MRS. F. L. LOWREY SPEAKS AT HILO.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey are home after a delightful three weeks spent on the island of Hawaii. Mrs. Lowrey was asked to address the people of Hilo and tell them of the work of the Outdoor Circle and city planning commission of Honolulu. This she gladly did, emphasizing the fact in Hilo, as she did when the circle started here, what has made the circle the power it is, was the cooperation of many women who have an interest in civic beauty and belief in the city's future. So impressed were the Hiloites that on Tuesday morning a meeting was to be held for organization and planning the work of the year.

About 50 of Hilo's representative men and women attended and were put in touch with the best method of taking up this pleasant work.

The Outdoor Circle is now 500 strong and should have a thousand members, which it will before another five years passes. Every woman in Honolulu who has the desire to be one of this club of women will be gladly welcomed, for, as the worthy president says, it is not the wealthy woman who need worry about the appearance of her garden, for she has servants to do that for her. It is the tiny cottage, where the mother of the home tends the garden, whose membership is needed. These have proved splendid assistants as members of the Outdoor Circle.

CALIFORNIA GIRL TO BECOME BRIDE OF HONOLULU BANKER.

TULARE, Cal., June 7.—The engagement of Miss Lulu Gill, daughter of G. Q. Gill of this city, to Fred Jamieson, a banker of Honolulu, was announced at a luncheon and bridge party given this afternoon by Misses Clara and Olga Schoenemann. The date and place of the wedding has not been announced. The couple expect to make their home in Honolulu. Pink and green was the color scheme of the party this afternoon. The engagement was announced on kewpie cards and the place cards were hearts. A luncheon was served, after which progressive bridge was played. The guests were former schoolmates and intimate friends of the bride-elect. Those present included the following: Mesdames G. C. Burnett, L. H. Pratt, Frank Newcity, W. S. Triplett, Eugene Barreau of Lindsay, Nell Henry, Decatur Higgins of Visalia, J. J. Mitchell, M. L. Swyers, C. L. Russell, Jr., G. F. Roch and Earl Birkhead; Misses Lulu Gill, Grace Higgins, Sara Russell, Zora Anderson and Frances Ballou of Los Angeles.

ROOF GARDENS HAVE 'SEASONS'.

The following article from the San Francisco Chronicle is interesting to island folk. There is never an opening of the "roof garden season" in Hawaii. The climate permits of roof garden attractions from January to December, but then New York is not so blessed as the Isles of Peace.

"The opening of the roof gardens for the summer in New York is always a gala event, and the pleasure of 'opening night' at the Ritz was shared by several Californians who are visiting there, as well as by the usual throng of New York's smart set. One of the largest parties was that at which Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs entertained. Among her guests were Miss Lota Robinson, who visited in this city last year, having come West with Mrs. Thomas P. Walsh of Washington."

MOTOR TO SHASTA.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Bishop of New York and Tuxedo, who recently returned here, have gone to Shasta Springs. They traveled north in their own large touring car, which they brought from the East and took to Honolulu with them. They toured southern California in the machine and are now seeing the northern part of the state, making Shasta Springs their headquarters. Mrs. Bishop has a penchant for strange animals and at her home in Tuxedo has a menagerie of weird beasts she has collected on her travels.—San Francisco Bulletin.

AT THE PRESIDIO.

Maj. and Mrs. Frank Cheatham are moving into quarters on Infantry Terrace in the Presidio. Since they arrived they have been living at Fort Mason.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Lieut. and Mrs. Emery T. Smith are planning many enjoyable affairs to mark the approaching visit at their Monterey home of Miss Maggie MacMaster of Portland. Miss MacMaster has been in San Francisco for several weeks, having come south to attend the woman's preparedness camp at the Presidio, and while that precludes the possibility of the usual round of social pleasures, there will be many to follow the conclusion of the period of training. Mrs. MacMaster and Mrs. Smith have been close friends for years, and Mrs. Smith visited in Portland at the MacMaster home before her marriage to Lieut. Smith.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Capt. and Mrs. Ashley Robertson, who since leaving this city have been stationed in Los Angeles, have received orders taking them to the Eastern coast. They will leave shortly for Newport, where Capt. Robertson will be on duty with the Naval War College. Their departure is the cause of much regret in a wide circle of friends in California, from Mare Island to Coronado. Mrs. Robertson was a Los Angeles girl, and their station in that city has been consequently very delightful. They will probably come to San Francisco for a brief visit on route East.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Miss Margaret Offley and her brother, Ensign Archibald N. Offley, will share the honors of the "tackey" party at which Commander and Mrs. Cleveland N. Offley will entertain Tuesday afternoon. Ensign Offley is enjoying a month's leave with his parents, and his friends on the island are making his stay exceptionally pleasant, with a series of enjoyable affairs. With Ensign Offley and his sister are great favorites at the navy post. Tuesday's affair, the chief diversion of which will be dancing, will be enjoyed by about 50 of the younger set stationed on the island.—San Francisco Chronicle.

OAKLAND, June 15.—This afternoon Mrs. Luther Dimm was hostess at a delightful bridge party at the Claremont Country Club, and had as her guests a group of her intimate friends. The affair was planned in honor of Mrs. George Bush, who will leave shortly for Santa Barbara to make her home; Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. H. G. Plummer, two visitors from Honolulu. Following the session of bridge, the hostess and her guests enjoyed tea on the roof garden of the clubhouse.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould will be here next week. They had planned to come when Mr. and Mrs. C. Templeton Crocker arrived but were detained. Mrs. Gould was Anne Graham, daughter of Mrs. Herbert Vos and granddaughter of Mrs. L. A. Coney of Honolulu. Mrs. Gould is an unusually handsome woman of the demi-blonde type, very tall as are all of the Coney women, and regal-looking, with that dignified bearing characteristic of the island women.

Several social affairs are being planned in honor of Pay Director and Mrs. Frank T. Arms, who with their two daughters will leave during the first week of July for the East. They will be several weeks in Boston, where they will be the guests of relatives before they journey to Portsmouth, where Pay Director Arms will be stationed. Pay Inspector J. J. Cheatham will succeed his brother-in-law at Mare Island.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A motor camping trip in the mountains of Northern California is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Mills. They expect to be away a fortnight and will occupy much of their time with fishing and hunting.

Others who frequently go into the wilds on fishing and hunting trips of this description are Mr. and Mrs. Paliwin Wood, who recently enjoyed a trip to the mountains back of Monterey.—San Francisco Examiner.

Miss Edna McDuffie and Miss Adelaide Smith, two Berkeley girls, write interesting letters from Honolulu, where they are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mowry Rogers. The two girls expect to be away several weeks longer. Mrs. Rogers was Miss Myrtle Smith before her marriage last year and has one of the beautiful homes in Honolulu.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. Gilbert Perkins and her sister, Miss Marion Huntington, sailed unexpectedly last week for Honolulu. They have been at Castle Crag, but decided the sea voyage would benefit Miss Huntington, who is not enjoying robust health. They will stop for a few days in Honolulu and will return to San Francisco June 20.—San Francisco Chronicle.

There is much rejoicing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tevis, Jr., over the arrival of an infant son, who was born Tuesday at San Mateo. This is their first child and he will probably be christened Lloyd Tevis III. Mrs. Tevis prior to her marriage was Miss Lee Girvin, one of the most popular girls in the peninsula set.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Misses Martha and Mary Graham arrived last night from Los Angeles, where they are students of the Cummock School of Expression. A fellow student, Miss Inez Gibson of Honolulu, accompanied them and will be their guest for a short time before leaving for her island home.—Santa Barbara (Cal.) Press.

Miss Arabella Schwerin has been the guest of Miss Gertrude Hopkins for a few days at her home on Jackson street. These two charming girls returned to Pasadena, Robies, where they joined Ronnie P. Schwerin. Later the party will motor through the oil fields at Bakersfield.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gooding Field are returning to Honolulu after three months' visit to Berkeley and Southern California. Mr. Field, who has been taking an advanced course in finance at the University of California, is secretary and organizer of the Hawaii Tuna Club.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Eddy will be the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Augustus Spreckels, part of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Spreckels have recently purchased from Lewis Sherry his chateau at Manhas-set, Long Island, which they will occupy this summer.—San Francisco Examiner.

On today's steamer a large number of Honolulu folks mainland-bound left the city. Many for vacations, others to arrange for next year's schooling for the sons and daughters of the home. Many visitors have also gone their respective ways, leaving friends that hope for an early return.

Farewells are being said to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry, who will sail in a couple of weeks for Honolulu, where they will remain for an indefinite time. Mrs. Henry is being made the motif for a number of informal affairs prior to her departure for the islands.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. L. F. Marshall, a society woman of Honolulu, is visiting Miss Lucy K. Ward at the Cecil Hotel. Miss Ward is also a social favorite in Honolulu, and is one of the best equestriennes in the islands.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. Anderson (nee Anna Rose), wife of Capt. Anderson of the Honolulu, leaves this morning's Matsonia after three months spent on Hawaii, Maui and Oahu. She is on her way to Tacoma, Wash., to meet Capt. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilcox of Kauai, who have been on the island of Hawaii, were Honolulu-bound passengers on the Mauna Kea.

Among the arrivals yesterday at the Anselmus was H. B. Newcomb from Honolulu. Mr. Newcomb was accompanied by his wife. He reports business conditions in Hawaii excellent.—Los Angeles, Cal., Examiner.

Mrs. J. L. Campbell and her daughter, Miss Clara Campbell, are here on a two months' visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell. This is Mrs. Campbell's second visit to the islands.

Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton left today after a delightful four months. She has been a great favorite with the smart set, who always extend aloha when she comes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Atherton and family left this morning on the Matsonia for the mainland, where they will spend the next three months, mostly in Seattle.

Mrs. Herman Focke and Miss Babs Focke left on today's steamer for the mainland. Mrs. Focke will place her daughter in an Eastern school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorrin Thurston leave on Saturday's steamer to spend the summer on the island of Hawaii.

FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

FORT SHAFTER, June 28.—Major and Mrs. Michael J. Lenihan were hosts last Saturday evening at a beautifully appointed dinner at their home in the main garrison when they entertained in honor of their twenty-fifth anniversary.

The reception and dance given in honor of Colonel and Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell by the garrison at the fort was a most brilliant affair and was attended by not only everyone from the post but many from Honolulu and the surrounding posts. The hop room as well as the reception room was most artistically decorated with palms and pink and white oleander blossoms and a profusion of lilies, Shasta daisies and gladioli were everywhere and a large French basket of these flowers tied with pink tulle adorned the center of the supper table. Receiving with Colonel and Mrs. Howell were Colonel and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson. Among those who motored out from town to this most enjoyable affair were General and Mrs. Robert K. Evans, Colonel and Mrs. Roberts, Captain and Mrs. Carpenter, Captain and Mrs. Jack Hayes, Major and Mrs. Raymond, the Misses Buckland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Col. and Mrs. Ellis, Lieut. and Mrs. Clark, Miss Swamy, Dr. and Mrs. Tuttle, Major Williams, Captain G. Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham entertained in honor of Captain and Mrs. Jack Hayes. Later they attended the reception and dance given in honor of Colonel and Mrs. Howell.

Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick A. Barker had as their dinner guests last Friday evening Captain and Mrs. Albert Clark and Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson. Mrs. Barker used pink and green as her color scheme and a bowl of pink sweet peas and forget-me-nots tied with green tulle adorned the center of the table. This dainty color scheme was further carried out by the candle shades and little hand-painted place cards which marked the place of each guest.

Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, who is a patient in the Department hospital, is much to the delight of her many friends convalescing very rapidly.
